Shared Notes Reviews

By Jeb Dunnuck

Posted June 5, 2018.

“The Shared Notes releases are a collaboration between the husband wife team of Bibiana Gonzalez Rave and Jeff Pisoni. The 2016s are distinctly racier and lean compared to the 2015s, but they’re going to gain weight and mid-palate depth with another year or two in bottle. These are both going to be very long-lived whites.”

SHARED NOTES

Shared Notes 2016 Les Leçons des Maîtres

| 94+

Brought up all in new oak (although you'd never know this by tasting it), the 2016 Les Leçons des Maîtres is a racy, vibrant white that has exotic notes of lime peel, lemon zest, white flowers and crushed rocks. With medium body, bright acidity, a beautiful texture, and a great finish, it's approachable today, but will be even better with short-term cellaring and keep for 10-15 years.

Shared Notes 2016 Les Pierres qui Décident

| 92

Slightly more racy and lean, the 2016 Les Pierres qui Décident boasts loads of white grapefruit, green citrus, and white flowers, and shows a salty, iodine, marine-like influence on the palate. As with the Les Leçons des Maîtres release, it has serious acidity and needs to be forgotten for a good 2-4 years.
