

Shared Notes 2016 Les Lecons des Maitres

| 97

The nose is well-focused herb, citrus and white peach, crisp green fruit and whiffs of white pepper. Always stunning in its elegance, the palate is effortlessly layered white stone fruit and melon with notes of herb and crisp green apple. Hard to come up with superlatives – it is consistently among the top three domestic examples.

Shared Notes 2016 Les Pierres qui Decident

| 96

Composed of 100% Sauvignon Blanc, the nose is a bright lemon, peach, chalk and nectarine with stunning purity, notes of evergreen needle and white currant. The palate is bright green and yellow fruits, flawlessly focused and layered elegance. Along with its stablemate, these wines are unquestionably among the best made in North America.